Convention at Beach Cove

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

CARLTON STEINMETZ
GUARANTEED SUPPLY COMPANY

It is hard to believe the three has flown by, but what a year has been for their outstanding membership for their outstanding memberit has been a personal annual meetings are over and most of the year is behind us; 2008 it has been. I want to thank all the officers, Board members and membership of the chapter this year; I have truly enjoyed my term as President and a privilege to serve you in this office.

While on personal thoughts, allow me to address a few personal notes in my last President's Message. First, thanks and congratulations to Greg Tierney for his outstanding leadership in 2007 that led to our receiving Chapter of the Year; it was my honor to receive the award during my term in office, but the work was done on Greg's watch. Unfortunately he was not able to personally join us for the Convention and Celebration due to a family wedding, but kudos to Greg for a job well done. Secondly, it was a special pleasure on behalf of the Board to recognize Willie Goncharow as the Distinguished Member of the Year.

Willie has been more than just a boss, but a friend and an advisor and very deserving of this recognition.

I want to welcome our two new Board members Tara Cavalline and Dan Beuker and wish our new President John Lambert all the best. This has been a great year for me and for the chapter and I look forward to the future of the Carolinas Chapter.

Carlton

GONCHAROW IS DISTINGUISHED MEMBER OF THE YEAR

Willie Goncharow, President of Guaranteed Supply Company in Greensboro received the Distinguished Member of the Year award for his ongoing efforts in the formulation and promotion of the Carolinas Chapter of ICRI. Goncharow's involvement dates back 15 years to the spring of 1993 when he, along with Chuck Ernest, Jim Lucas, George Arnold, Rob Kernerly and Robert Thaxton met in the offices of Guaranteed Supply to talk about the possibility of starting a local chapter of The International Association of Concrete Repair Specialists which ultimately evolved into our ICRI chapter. The plaque was presented by Chapter President Carlton Steinmetz on behalf of the Board and membership; the inscription read "for your continued contributions during your career to the Carolinas Chapter."

DURHAM'S CHAPEL HILL ST PARKING DECK WINS PROJECT OF THE YEAR

Awards' Chairman Jim Hadley congratulates Mike Morse of Lesco Restorations as winner of the Carolinas Chapter's Project of the Year.

Congratulations to the City of Durham's Chapel Hill Street Parking Deck team that won this year's Carolinas Chapter Project of the Year. Lesco Restorations won the top Honor Award for this structural strengthening project.

The Chapel Hill Deck was a very complicated and unique installation and the requirements will make this a great candidate for a presentation for national Project of the Year. Mike Morse was the Lesco Project Manager; Russ Botos was CFRP installer, Walter P. Moore were the Engineers from Houston, Guaranteed Supply Company was the distributor, the City of Durham were owners, and Sika Corp. was the CFRP and repair material supplier.

The second place Merit Award went to Carolina Restoration and Waterproofing for the City of Raleigh Parking Garages: Wilmington Street Moore Square + Municipal Decks. The City of Raleigh is the owner, and Kimley-Horn were the engineers.

2008 CAROLINAS FALL CONVENTION

The celebration started early with a toast at the pre-convention Board of Directors' meeting.

Chapter Treasurer Keith Harrison and his wife Linda enjoy the Hospitality Suite on the opening night of the convention.

Mark Hollander of White Cap and Tim Hobbs of Euclid join in the celebration.

Chapter President Carlton Steinmetz and Ben Smith of Carolina Restoration enjoy the ocean front view at Beach Cove resort.

Carolina Chapter first timers Bill Fortuna of Quikrete and Michael Bailly of Anchor Restoration meet at the tabletops Trip Moore of New South Supply coaches newcomer Steve Freeman on the finer points of trade show display assembly.

Jed Daniels, Kearns Cheek and Tim Hobbs all showed up bright eyed at the Friday morning coffee and registration.

Checking the stock market, getting emails or the weather for the afternoon golf: George Arnold and John McDougall stay connected..

And I thought it was opposites that attract: Jim Lucas and Willie Goncharow obviously have a similar eye for fashion.

Team Guaranteed Supply: Doug Saunders, Mark O'Brien, Carlton Steinmetz and Willie Goncharow

A lot of experience in this frame: Jim Schwartz and Tom Hayes share some stories.

New Board member Tara Cavalline of UNC Charlotte with Past Chapter President Mike Parker.

CELEBRATING SUCCESS IN CONCRETE

Board member Jeff Molby of Sutton Kennerly welcomes Bryan Wood back to the chapter meeting, coming all the way from Alabama.

PEs and PDHs go hand in hand: Kent Yarborough and Jed Daniels were just two of the engineers at the Fall Convention.

A full house of attendees and sponsors were with us at the 2008 Fall Convention.

Board member Mark Hollander doing some early new member recruitment of Kira Harrison (8 months old – granddaughter of Kelly and Kit Andrews)

Deep discussions: Jed Daniels of Seager Waterproofing is making a point to Guaranteed's Willie Goncharow.

Past Presidents Don Ford and Sutton Kennerly's Chuck Ernest have had a lot to do with the chapter's success.

John McDougall with new Board member Dan Bueker...looking content, smug or suspicious?

These things aren't work, they're fun: ask Sika's Jim Hadley and Quikrete's Bill Fortuna.

Sutton Kennerly's Courtney Green and Greg Isaacs enjoy the reception prior to the banquet.

Wondered what was just said? Carolina Restoration's Paul Ferrell has a sly look, Lesco's Mike Morse is holding up the wall, and Kenseal's Gary Cox is making a point.

An annual debt is paid: C.A. Lindman's Don Ford serves Jim Schwartz a drink (that means Jim beat Don in the golf).

Chapter Secretary Jim Hadley welcomes guest speaker Tom White of NCSU.

ICRI ANNUAL GOLF AND FISHING TOURNAMENTS

Shaftesbury Glen Golf and Fish Club in Loris, SC hosted our group for the second year. This year was as competitive as ever, and with only 5 teams it was a fight till the last hole.

The annual fishing tournament was wet, rainy and windy, but we persevered. There was one angler who distinguished himself as the best and the worst under these trying conditions, so this year we give one award as Angler of the Year, for the first fish, the largest fish, the smallest fish and the most fish, as well as the well known Chum Award. The 2008 ICRI Angler of the Year is Keith Smith.

WE HONOR FOURTEEN SPECIAL FRIENDS

This year's Fall Convention included a special invitation for the fourteen presidents of the Carolinas Chapter to join us at the Fall Convention; this year was a double celebration of our 15th Chapter Anniversary and being named ICRI Chapter of the Year for the second time in our history.

At the Friday evening banquet, we recognized these men for their leadership of our chapter and make a special presentation to all the past Chapter Presidents from 1993 to the present. The honor roll:

Chuck Ernest, 1993-1995 · Robert Thaxton, 1995-1996 · Willie Goncharow, 1996-1997 · Ralph Thompson, 1997-1998 · George Arnold, 1998-1999
Jim Lucas, 1999-2000 · Jed Daniel, 2000-2001 · Gary Cox, 2001-2002 · Mike Morse, 2002-2003 · Mike Parker, 2003-2004 · Russ Botos, 2004-2005
Don Ford, 2005-2006 · Greg Tierney, 2006-2007 · Carlton Steinmetz, 2007-2008

Ten of the 14 Presidents of the Carolinas Chapter were present at the celebration, shown here with their certificates of appreciation.

Seated: Chuck Ernest, Willie Goncharow, George Arnold, Jim Lucas, Jed Daniels
Standing: Gary Cox, Mike Morse, Mike Parker, Don Ford, Carlton Steinmetz
Absent but honored for service: Ralph Thompson, Robert Thaxton, Russ Botos, Greg Tierney

THANKS TO ALL OUR PRESENTERS FOR YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS

A special thanks to our three featured presenters: Mike Edison of Edison Coatings; Fred Goodwin, BASF Building Materials; and Thomas White, Office of Extension, Engagement, and Economic Development at NC State University for their outstanding insights.
